Give your electric bill some credit seven months of the year

Helping businesses save on their monthly bills is just as important to us as meeting tomorrow's energy demands, and our Business On Call program does both. When you volunteer to enroll in Business On Call, you help meet the energy needs of all customers when demand for energy is highest. In exchange for your participation, your business will get money back on its electric bill.

How On Call works

When your business volunteers to enroll in Business On Call, you give us the option to temporarily turn off your air conditioning (A/C) system for short periods of time – only when absolutely necessary – so we can meet the energy needs of all customers when the demand for energy is highest. In exchange for your participation, you'll receive a monthly credit on your electric bill, even if the program is not activated, and you may cancel at any time.¹

How to qualify

To qualify for Business On Call, your business must normally operate between 3 p.m. and 5 p.m. at least four weekdays a week.²

How to enroll

Visit us at FPL.com/business or call our Business Care Center at 800-FPL-5566 (800-375-5566).

Your energy savings can add up!

Save $2 per ton for each of the seven months your A/C is enrolled. For example, a five-ton A/C unit would save a total of $70 per year.

5 tons x $2 =
$10 per month

$10 x 7 months =
$70 per year

On Call FAQs

When is the program most often activated?

Business On Call operates from April to October. During these months, demand for energy is at its highest, you are likely to use more energy, and you typically experience your highest bills.

How long will my A/C system be off?

Your A/C may be turned off for up to 17.5 minutes at a time every half hour during a six-hour window.³

How much will the temperature vary when On Call is activated?

Since your A/C system turns on and off on its own, you will most likely never notice a difference in temperature.
